It's Small Business Season!

Small Business Saturday was November 25, but we're extending it throughout the holiday season! From November 1 - December 31st, we're celebrating Small Business Season™. The chamber is encouraging every person of our community to support friends and neighbors by shopping, dining, and exploring our small businesses.

Small Businesses Are a Big Deal to Affton & Lemay

Small business made up over 60% of all new jobs this year and yet they face many challenges from rising costs to filling vacancies. Plus, according to JP Morgan Chase, "The median small business holds (only) 27 cash buffer days in reserve. Half of all small businesses hold a cash buffer of less than one month. Moreover, 25% of small businesses hold fewer than 13 cash buffer days in reserve." That means over 50% of small businesses wouldn't last over a month on their reserves.

They need our help, and we need theirs. On average, $68 of every $100 spent locally stays in our community. Most of us turn to small businesses first when we're seeking help for our nonprofits, youth activities, and sponsorships. When they thrive, we thrive!

Where you spend your money this holiday season matters.

Support small businesses by patronizing them and/or:

- Writing reviews
- Referring friends
- Checking-in and taking pictures or videos and sharing them on social media when you're visiting small businesses
- Sharing small business posts on social media
- Talking about your favorite businesses on social media
- Participating in <insert your contest or event>

Join us and pledge to support local this holiday season. Shopping small can make a big difference.

THE WOMEN OF THE TORAH

PEACEMAKERS

SPEAKER:
RABBI SUSAN TALVE

Founding Rabbi, Central Reform Congregation,
St. Louis, Missouri and
Founder and Chief
Executive Officer,
Ashrei Foundation

Bringing her vast experience of empowering others, Rabbi Susan Talve's keynote speech will illustrate how she links together the chain of peace to connect those whose differences often divide in our community and beyond.

Rabbi Susan Talve was ordained by Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati in 1981, where she earned a master's degree in Hebrew Letters and a Doctor of Divinity. She has received awards for her efforts in community service, infant childcare, and being a visionary and leader on behalf of the Jewish and non-Jewish communities.

Rabbi Susan is the founding rabbi of Central Reform Congregation, the only Jewish congregation located within the city limits of St. Louis. She has led her congregation in promoting radical inclusivity by developing ongoing relationships with African American and Muslim congregations and fostering civil liberties for the LGBTQ community.

Rabbi Susan attributes her success to the relationships she has built by showing up: from street corners where violent crime has taken lives to rallies for worker's rights, gun control and access to health care to the bedside of the suffering regardless of religion or membership in her community.
